2023-09-14	Ashok Gehlot	accident in Seattle in January are deeply troubling. We have taken up the matter strongly with local authorities in Seattle & Washington State as well as senior officials in Washington DC for a thorough investigation & action against those involved in this tragic case.
2023-10-02	Ashok Gehlot	How Indian universities can break into global top 100: It will take innovative approaches that focus on leveraging technology and fostering research, academia-industry connect plus strong alumni networks
2023-09-08	Europe Must Get Serious About Critical Minerals	Europe will never be able to meet its own demand for REEs or lithium domestically, but nor should that be its goal. The goal, rather, is to secure access to critical raw materials so that we do not find ourselves at the mercy of those who might weaponize them – as the Kremlin has done with hydrocarbons. Such access is crucial for strengthening our strategic autonomy, maintaining our competitiveness, and meeting our climate ambitions.
2023-09-08	The G20 Wins the Group Battle	The joint declaration that emerged from last week's G20 summit in New Delhi provides further confirmation of this. Member states reached a consensus to address a wide range of issues. Despite obvious challenges – such as the considerable differences in how member states operate – they managed to reassert the G20's relevance after a lengthy period in which its role had been called into question.
2023-09-06	The Global Economy's Real Enemy is Geopolitics, Not Protectionism	This is one of the most common questions I hear nowadays. But the distinction between free trade and protectionism (like the one between markets and the state, or mercantilism and liberalism) is not especially helpful for understanding the global economy. Not only does it misrepresent recent history; it also misconstrues today's policy transitions and the conditions needed for a healthy global economy.
